Dr. Stephan Ediss translates the body's reflex points into practical lifestyle and nutritional solutions. Dr. Ediss has a profound understanding of the body's reflex points, how they relate to health issues, and how nutrition correlates to both! Dr. Steve combines mastered knowledge of physiology and neurology techniques with a dab of practical kinesiology and his proven nutritional protocols to create a recipe for successful outcomes.

- Dr. Ediss has over 30 years of practice experience with over 300 certification hours of Applied Kinesiology, is a Certified Acupuncturist (F.I.A.C.A.) and has established experience in nutritional assessments and protocols. The focus of this seminar is on the clinical assessments and applications of biomechanics, neurology, physiology, and nutrition as they apply to your day to day practice. Muscle testing techniques are incorporated for the seasoned tester, or the avid learner/beginner, or simply anyone interested in mastering the concepts behind what those reflex points reveal to us.

"I was skeptical going in, but I was awed by Dr. Steve's ability to correct with his adjustment techniques; my own chronic condition was improved immensely. His seminar is a must see!" R.D., DC, Lakewood, CO.
