Technique, technique and more technique - TMJ, cranial, postural alignment, extremities, upper cervical... you name it! The combination of this team's ability and expertise will impress and resonate with chiropractors. Join us in an informal learning setting with no slides – simple teaching of technique and revelations of the procedures that have made these doctor so successful in their practices.

Set with mountain views spanning 450 acres of Beaver Ranch Park in Conifer, CO.

Bring your walking shoes if you want to explore a trail during lunch!

This class is very popular and will be restricted in numbers due to the private residence venue, so please express your interest early.

A local B&B is available but must be booked early.

Previous registrants have raved about the up close and personal experience. This is your chance to experience what impressed them so much!

Roger Smith, DC

Roger Smith DC and William Stempel DC come together to advance your knowledge of technique! Come join us for a spectacular interactive, hands-on Saturday of techniques that will amaze you and increase your ability to take patients' wellness to the next level!

Dr. Roger Smith has a passion to correct imbalances with GPA (Gravitational Postural Analysis) – a method of whole-body alignment from head to toe. These doctors treat many football players, including the Denver Broncos, who need to get back on their feet fast! Get adjusted at the seminar while you discover these techniques!

William Stempel DC brings his expertise in many varied areas and watching his remarkable work will spark an interest in his techniques. He specializes in neurological disorganization and also masters adjusting the feet. He is sometimes referred to as "the bunion doctor", with a unique ability to make them disappear. Learn the technique! This is a chance to glean tried and true pearls and add to your adjusting repertoire!
