" When You Want The Best "

The Professional's Guide to Effective Nutritional Therapy

Made with pride in Wyoming
where business is still done on a handshake.

*"Our dedication to you,
the health care provider,
is absolute. You deserve our personal best in service and support."*

"Our Fundamental Focus is Patient Well Being"

Dear Health Care Practitioner:

In this day of Internet, e-mail, fax transmissions, smart phones, voice mail and other electronic marvels of communication, callers to Nutri-West Distributors and to our Corporate Office often seem startled to find themselves talking to a living, caring human being. It would seem that today's technological wonders are so marvelous that many businesses and professions have let them take over— not just the little things, but the major things as well. Things like talking to one another.

Well, that isn't the way it is at Nutri-West and that isn't the way it will likely be anytime soon. You and the legions of other health-care professionals who come to us for support will always get our personal best, not just the best our machines, our information systems and our data banks can give.

Why? For the same reason that you sit down and personally get to know and understand your patients. It is because we are working together in the most human of fields—healthcare. We are dealing with people's lives and comfort, with their expectations for today and their hopes for tomorrow. While there is a ready place for technology in what we do, the very foundation of our profession is direct, human-to-human contact. And that's the way it should always be. In fact, that's the way it MUST always be!

We want you to know that despite Nutri-West's commercial success and enormous growth as a company. The Nutri-West family remains as dedicated to the personal, human purposes and values that led Dr. Paul White to found the firm nearly three decades ago.

This was and is the credo on which Nutri-West is based: Our fundamental focus is patient well-being. We hold to the principle that the professional health care practitioner is the surest way to good health. We maintain an absolute commitment to product quality, purity and efficacy. The professionals who rely on us deserve nothing less than our personal best in service and support.

Those aren't just words on an office wall plaque; they're the daily guidelines by which we operate. Here are a few of the many ways we work to make them real.

Nutri-West products are made to the industry's most exacting standards. Each of the more than 1,200 raw materials used in our formulations undergoes regular, random laboratory analysis to assure purity and potency. These extraordinary natural substances then become Nutri-West products in our own award-winning, ultra modern production facilities. Our plant and laboratories have received Wyoming's coveted Blue Ribbon for food and drug manufacturing excellence.

Our dedication to you, the health care professional, is absolute. Our products are formulated and produced specifically to support YOUR healing arts and are available to your patients only in that context and only through you. Unlike many other leading supplement lines, Nutri-West does not sell to health food stores, supermarkets, drug stores or any other retail outlets or online department stores.

Nutri-West product selection and diversity is unequalled by any other producer. Our broad spectrum of more than 300 products from vitamins, minerals, herbs, glandulars, enzymes and others to proprietary lines like Whole System and Core Level products, Micro-West Homeopathics and so much more, represent the largest, most diverse line of nutritional supplementation available from any single manufacturer.

Personal dedication remains our defining company trait. Whether shipping all possible orders the day they are placed, constantly seeking new and improved formulations for your patients' health, or simply answering our telephones in person and with a real willingness to help, we strive to provide the nutritional assistance you want and the nutritional products your patients need.

Yours in successful health care,
Tony White and Michele Ediss

Personal Integrity

In this era of loopholes, escape clauses and negotiated settlements, the time-honored principle of a man's word being his bond has been all but buried in the pages of the past. Except at Nutri-West.

Here in Wyoming where the Code of the West was the only contract in use for over 150 years, personal commitment, personal accountability and personal integrity are still the foundations of daily life. Frankly, we also believe they're what makes Nutri-West different from so many other firms in our field.

We aren't a huge, impersonal corporation taking advantage of health food fads and nutritional crazes just to make profits for shareholders. We are in the nutritional supplementation profession out of personal commitments by our founders, owners and employees to help you help your patients to fuller health, naturally.

Absolute purity, effective formulation, optimum quality and the widest selection available. They're yours only from Nutri-West.

You have our word on it.

It's still the Code of the West at Nutri-West.

Complete MG

Magnesium - The Multi-faceted Mineral

Why it's needed for optimal health and happiness...

Nutri-West presents a new product, Complete MG, that utilizes three of the top magnesium binders: malate, glycinate and citrate, along with soluble fiber, MCT and taurine to give you the ultimate in absorption and utilization!

Magnesium is necessary to activate the ATP for energy in every cell of our body. According to Dr. Carolyn Dean, it is involved in more than 700 metabolic reactions. It can determine optimal performance of every cell in bone, muscle and organ system. It is important to both physical and mental health. Yet, many foods are depleted of magnesium; many dietary components and drugs interfere with magnesium absorption; many people suffer from deficiency; intake & absorption decrease as we age; and urinary excretion increases with age. An estimated 75% of Americans have daily magnesium intakes less than the RDA (World Health Organization. Calcium and Magnesium in Drinking Water: Public health significance. Geneva: World Health Organization Press; 2009). Also, blood tests of magnesium (serum magnesium) can be inaccurate unless the red blood cell magnesium is measured directly.

Magnesium is support for: energy, muscle cramps, muscle relaxation, nerve conduction, normal heart rhythm, DNA synthesis; protein synthesis, immune system, healthy bones, mental health, restful sleep, healthy blood pressure maintenance, blood glucose homeostasis, activation of vitamin D, headache, attention span.

ADRENAL GLANDS

The adrenal glands are responsible for a wide variety of functions, including water/electrolyte balance, blood sugar control, inflammation regulation, sex hormone production and stress management. In the "alarm stage" of stress, the sympathetic nervous system gets activated, and the adrenal glands pump out glucocorticoids, mineralcorticoids and corticosteroids. These remain elevated in the "resistance stage" of stress. If care is not given to their replenishment and recharging, the "exhaustion stage" of stress can completely deplete the adrenal glands. Strong adrenal glands are important to the menopausal woman, as a source of estrogen.

THE B VITAMINS

Essential to health and well-being, the B vitamins catalyze numerous biochemical reactions, particularly energy production, fat and protein metabolism. The B vitamins work synergistically as a complex to maintain proper functioning of many tissues, especially the brain, adrenal glands, nervous system, hair and skin. They are necessary for proper maintenance of muscle tone in the gastrointestinal tract. The B vitamins provide energy by breaking carbohydrates down into glucose and converting it into the energy source of ATP (our basic fuel for cells). Many of the vitamins in the complex act as coenzymes, such as niacin (vitamin B 3) and riboflavin (vitamin B 2). Vitamin B 5, or pantothenic acid, is part of "Coenzyme A", which participates in numerous reactions as Acetyl-Co A. Thiamine (vitamin B 1) is essential for the coenzyme that allows glucose to enter the Krebs' cycle as a substrate. Exercise, carbohydrate foods, sugar, dieting and alcohol, which tax the oxidative capacity of the Krebs' cycle, all increase the body's need for the B vitamins. Stress and anxiety also increase the demand for these vitamins. Drinking sufficient water is important since the B vitamins are water soluble. Intestinal flora in proper balance can synthesize many of the B vitamins.

CALCIUM

Calcium is an important mineral involved in numerous processes in the body. It builds and maintains bones and teeth, assists in blood clotting, plays a role in muscle growth, muscle contraction/relaxation, and nerve transmission, aids in utilization of other nutrients, activates several enzymes, and regulates passage of nutrients in and out of cells. Besides initiating many biochemical reactions, calcium is a positively charged ion that is needed for ionic balance. The calcium ATP Phase is an ion pump on the membrane of almost every cell which functions to maintain a healthy balance of calcium in the cell.

SUPER E-P-A

The omega-3 fatty acids have been well studied for their role in the homeostasis of many systems, including maintenance of cardiovascular health, and proper balance of essential fatty acids. Omega-3 fatty acids contain EPA and DHA, two of the most highly unsaturated fatty acids in the body. The omega-3 fatty acids contribute to balancing the production of prostaglandins and leukotrienes. Super E-P-A is rigorously tested for contaminants (i.e. heavy metals/pesticides), and is often chosen as a supplement by people wanting to ensure a healthy balance of toxin-free essential fatty acids. Because of the high degree of unsaturation, vitamin E, which is a potent lipid antioxidant and protectant, is also suggested for supplementation with Super E-P-A.

Each Capsule Contains: Total Fat 1 gram, Cholesterol (500 mg per 100 grams or 100 Capsules) 5 mg, Vitamin E as (d-alpha-tocopherol) 3.5 mg. Other Dietary Ingredients: 200 mg* of: Omega-3 fatty acids containing 110 mg* per gram (1 capsule) of eicosapentaenoic acid (EPA) and 90 mg* per gram of docosahexaenoic acid (DHA).

*Information on fat and cholesterol content is provided for individuals who, on the advice of their physicians, are modifying their total dietary intake of fat and cholesterol.

Rugged Individualism

It's a concept you'll just not find at big-city, mega-giant nutrition companies with their complicated organization charts, decision-making "teams" and departmental buck-passing.

It's rugged individualism, the idea that each person is responsible for, and committed to, doing the best they can do. Every time. All the time. In the old West, rugged individuals spent days in the saddle, "riding fence" and nights in the saddle "riding herd". What kept a cowboy going was his word—his personal oath that he would get the job done and do it right. This is the essence of life at Nutri-West.

At Nutri-West, that hasn't changed. Our company is made up of men and women totally committed to providing you with absolutely the best nutritional care you can recommend to your patients. It's care that shows in product purity. It's care that shows in precise formulation. It's care that shows in no-nonsense nutrition designed to support today's healing arts. In short, it's care in getting the job done right.
